Rudd riding end-market tailwinds

Ferronordic continued to notch new highs following a convincing Q3 beat, driven by a strong performance for Rudd. Sales increased 15% y-o-y (+3% vs. ABGSCe) and EBIT 86% (+49% vs. ABGSCe). Earnings comps turned sequentially more difficult, albeit still at fairly undemanding levels. The group posted a margin of 5.7% (3.9% ABGSCe, 3.5% Q3'25), the highest since the days of the Russian operations, driven by Rudd which delivered its highest ever-margin (10.2%) since the acquisition. The aftermarket in both the US and Germany remained strong, similar to Q2, in addition to a higher share of rental conversion (margin-accretive) in the US fleet. We note that conversions are typically larger towards the end of the year than the start. Rudd end-markets such as public infrastructure and road construction were stable, with DC and power infrastructure driving the incremental equipment sales.

'26e/'27e EBIT raised by 16%/3%

We raise '26e EBIT by 16% following the clean Q3 beat. Our estimates are raised by 3-4% for '27e-'28e, as our forecasts already assume a long-term earnings improvement. Net profit of SEK 79m (-13m in Q3'25) was boosted by a SEK 37m FX gain (-22m) and a tax charge of only SEK 2m, due to US tax loss carryforwards.

Summary and valuation

By systematically increasing aftermarket penetration and benefitting from tailwinds in the US market, Ferronordic has managed to deliver five consecutive quarters of solid earnings growth. With gearing at 2.8x, now clearly below the 3.0x ceiling for the first time since 2023, there is increased potential for strategic M&A ahead, in line with company strategy. Prior to today's report, the share had been flat L1M, compared to +3% for OMXSGI. The share is trading at 10-8x '27e-'28e P/E, which can be compared to our distributor peer group at 17-15x.

Company description

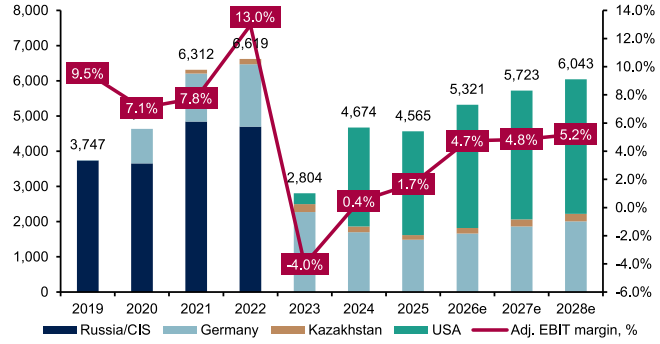

Ferronordic is a construction equipment and truck dealer operating in the U.S., Germany, and Kazakhstan. Its largest business is its U.S. subsidiary Rudd Equipment Company, one of the largest Volvo Construction Equipment dealers in the United States, covering all or parts of ten states and also representing Hitachi, Sandvik and Link-Belt. In Germany, Ferronordic is a dealer for Volvo Trucks and Renault Trucks, and in Kazakhstan it represents Volvo CE, Sandvik and certain other brands.

Sustainability information

Risks

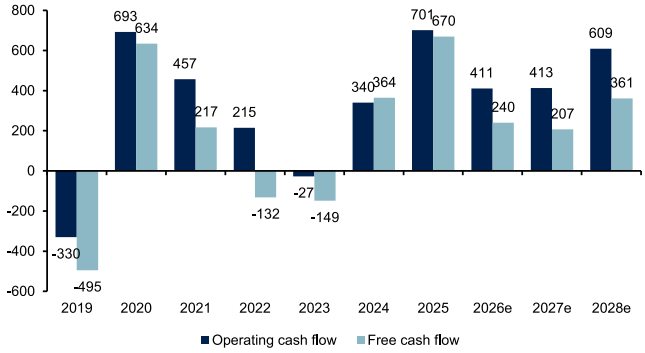

Risks include general economic risks stemming from the cyclical nature of the truck and construction equipment markets. In the U.S. segment, tariffs and a weaker dollar risk pressuring margins amid intensifying competition, while uncertainty around U.S. trade and fiscal policy adds further risk. The German truck market is highly competitive and risks include price pressure affecting margins and a cyclical truck demand. These risks are partly mitigated by the resilience of aftermarket service and parts revenues.

As such, commissioned research is deemed to constitute an acceptable minor non-monetary benefit (i.e., not investment research) as defined in MiFID II.

Analyst valuation methods

ABG Sundal Collier analysts may publish valuation ranges for stocks covered under Company Sponsored Research. These valuation ranges rely on various valuation methods. One of the most frequently used methods is the valuation of a company by calculation of that company's discounted cash flow (DCF). Another valuation method is the analysis of a company's return on capital employed relative to its cost of capital. Finally, the analysts may analyse various valuation multiples (e.g. the P/E multiples and the EV/EBITDA multiples) relative to global industry peers. In special cases, particularly for property companies and investment companies, the ratio of price to net asset value is considered. Valuation ranges may be changed when earnings and cash flow forecasts are changed. They may also be changed when the underlying value of a company's assets changes (in the cases of investment companies, property companies or insurance companies) or when factors impacting the required rate of return change.

Expected updates

ABGSC has no fixed schedule for updating its research reports. Unless expressly stated otherwise, ABGSC expects (but does not undertake) to issue updates when considered necessary by the research department, for example following the publication of new figures or forecasts by a company or in the event of any material news on a company or its industry.
