FCF generation remains top priority

- Q2e: 6% revenue growth y-o-y
- '26e adj. EBITDA just below the low end of '26 guidance
- Trading ~30% below peers at ~4x '26e EV/EBITDA

World Cup unlikely to be a significant tailwind

We expect Q2 revenue of EUR 26m, implying 6% y-o-y growth. This means that we expect adj. EBITDA of EUR 10m, corresponding to a 38% margin. Listed iGaming companies have provided mixed commentary in relation to the World Cup. However, the sports book performance and corresponding sports margins have largely been a function of which sports book solution an operator uses.. Given that Gentoo has a diverse set of customers, we believe that the sports margin is likely to be broadly in line with the historical average. This is corroborated, for example, by the recent Q2 earnings report from key peer Better Collective. Finally, we expect Gentoo to deliver free cash flow just shy of EUR 4m for the quarter.

Estimate revisions

We trim '26e-'28e EBITDA by 1-2%, as we incorporate somewhat more cautious operator outcome related to the FIFA World Cup. Our new estimates imply that we are just shy of the lower end of the company's '26 guidance for both revenue and EBITDA (guidance is '26 revenue of EUR 105-110m and adj. EBITDA of EUR 49-54m). That said, we expect the company's cash generation to help deleverage the balance sheet, which is a higher priority than revenue growth.

Trading at 4x '26e EV/EBITDA

Gentoo is trading at nearly 4x '26e EV/EBITDA, well below Better Collective (7.4x) but slightly above Gambling.com (3.8x). This means that Gentoo is trading 30% below the average of Better Collective and Gambling.com. It is worth noting that Gentoo Media is trading at a 23% lease-adj. FCF yield excl. M&A for '26e in the context of a deleveraging focus.

Company description

Gentoo Media is a B2B iGaming and sports betting affiliate company. It sells marketing services to other gambling B2C operators, enabling them to accumulate high-value First Time depositors. In addition, it has subscription revenues from its digital assets. Gentoo's footprint is global, and it has a significant portion of recurring revenue.

Sustainability information

Risks

We see regulatory risks (the firm could face litigation if it fails to comply with local laws and practices in the regions where it operates) and counterparty risk (it has many counterparties and some customers on the B2B side are smaller firms with low levels of solidity). Although the SEK 450m bond has been refinanced with more favourable terms and matures in 2024, this still means that there are some financial risks involved.

Analyst valuation methods

ABG Sundal Collier analysts may publish valuation ranges for stocks covered under Company Sponsored Research. These valuation ranges rely on various valuation methods. One of the most frequently used methods is the valuation of a company by calculation of that company's discounted cash flow (DCF). Another valuation method is the analysis of a company's return on capital employed relative to its cost of capital. Finally, the analysts may analyse various valuation multiples (e.g. the P/E multiples and the EV/EBITDA multiples) relative to global industry peers. In special cases, particularly for property companies and investment companies, the ratio of price to net asset value is considered. Valuation ranges may be changed when earnings and cash flow forecasts are changed. They may also be changed when the underlying value of a company's assets changes (in the cases of investment companies, property companies or insurance companies) or when factors impacting the required rate of return change.

Expected updates

ABGSC has no fixed schedule for updating its research reports. Unless expressly stated otherwise, ABGSC expects (but does not undertake) to issue updates when considered necessary by the research department, for example following the publication of new figures or forecasts by a company or in the event of any material news on a company or its industry.
