

ES Energy Save

Soft Q2 triggers profit warning

- Q2 sales SEK 15m, EBIT -16m (vs. ABGSCe 37m, -9m)
- Temporary inventory build-up among OEM customers
- SEK 25m short-term loan to reduce liquidity risk

Sales and EBIT miss of SEK 22m and 7m vs. ABGSCe

This afternoon, Energy Save issued a profit warning and presented sales of SEK 15m for Q2 (vs. ABGSCe 37m, -71% q-o-q). The sales miss was mainly due to OEM customers postponing orders due to temporary inventory build-up. We believe this is mainly attributable to the strong sales ramp-up in previous quarters to main customer Aira. The company states that it instead expects these orders to be placed in Q3 and, in particular, Q4. EBIT also declined, primarily due to weaker sales, to SEK -18m (vs. ABGSCe -9m, -4m in Q1).

Bank loan of SEK 25m secured

To mitigate liquidity risk from the lower net sales in Q2, the company secured a SEK 25m short-term bank loan in July, 80% of which is guaranteed by the Swedish Export Credit Agency. With this loan in place, and supported by an expected pickup in volumes during H2'25e, we believe the company's near-term financing needs are covered. In addition, the majority of the company's OEM deliveries are direct deliveries, meaning that payments are typically received at the time of delivery. The company ended Q1'25 with a cash balance of SEK 29m, which can be compared to the R12m FCF of SEK -40m.

Market recovery needed

On numbers alone '25e-'27e sales is impacted negatively by 9-5%, and EBIT by -7m (vs. FY25e EBIT of SEK -16m). Despite the weaker Q2, we anticipate an upturn in H2'25e, driven by normalising inventory levels and a gradual market recovery. We note that the pace of recovery remains uncertain but that the market troughed in mid-2024 and should continue to improve in future quarters. For reference, we note that heat pump sales volumes in key regions such as Sweden, Germany and the Netherlands grew ~40% y-o-y in Q1, and recent market activity indicates a continued uptick in Q2. This should be supportive also for sales activity for ES and its OEM customers. The share is currently down 16% (-20% YTD) since the announcement, and we believe today's news adds to estimate uncertainty and thereby increasing the risk that a return to positive earnings and cash flow could be further delayed. We await the full numbers from the Q2 report, which will be released on 15 August. The company is trading at 7x-3x '26e-'27e P/E on our pre-profit warning estimates.

As such, commissioned research is deemed to constitute an acceptable minor non-monetary benefit (i.e., not investment research) as defined in MiFID II.

Analyst valuation methods

ABG Sundal Collier analysts may publish valuation ranges for stocks covered under Company Sponsored Research. These valuation ranges rely on various valuation methods. One of the most frequently used methods is the valuation of a company by calculation of that company's discounted cash flow (DCF). Another valuation method is the analysis of a company's return on capital employed relative to its cost of capital. Finally, the analysts may analyse various valuation multiples (e.g. the P/E multiples and the EV/EBITDA multiples) relative to global industry peers. In special cases, particularly for property companies and investment companies, the ratio of price to net asset value is considered. Valuation ranges may be changed when earnings and cash flow forecasts are changed. They may also be changed when the underlying value of a company's assets changes (in the cases of investment companies, property companies or insurance companies) or when factors impacting the required rate of return change.

Expected updates

ABGSC has no fixed schedule for updating its research reports. Unless expressly stated otherwise, ABGSC expects (but does not undertake) to issue updates when considered necessary by the research department, for example following the publication of new figures or forecasts by a company or in the event of any material news on a company or its industry.
