

Eltel

New services improving the financial profile

- Q2e: big y-o-y earnings improvement
- Raised EBITA driven by increasing emerging service sales
- Share trading at 10x '26e EV/EBITA, goes to 7x in '28e

Q2e: significant y-o-y EBITA improvement

We expect Eltel to report Q2 net sales of EUR 211m, up 5% y-o-y, (4% organic, 1% FX). Although not as strong as the Q1 organic growth of 11%, which was boosted by completion of a larger Finnish project, we expect organic growth figures in Q2 and ahead to improve due to so-called emerging services reaching a sizeable share of sales (23% in Q1'26 vs. 6% in Q1'25), as well as the contract pipeline (53% in Q1'26 vs. 38% in Q1'25). Moreover, these new sales typically carry higher margins than Eltel's legacy business, and thus we model a significant y-o-y profitability increase, with Q2 EBITA of EUR 8.4m (2.5m in Q2'25) for a margin of 4.0% (1.2%).

Raised organic growth and margin assumptions

We raise our estimates for both organic growth and margins, and both for the same reason – the aforementioned increasing share of emerging service revenues. This results in our '26e-'27e EBITA coming up by 3%, and 4% for '28e.

Strategic shift now clearly improving the financials

The strategic shift away from a largely telecom-focused business model towards more diversified and faster-growing markets is now starting to show more clearly in the financials. There is still much room left to reach the EBITA margin target of 5% (compared to 2.7% on a r12m basis), and our estimates remain somewhat short of the target at 4.2% for '27e and 4.6% for '28e. Still, we model a substantial '26e-'28e adj. EBITA CAGR of 17%. On our estimates, the share is trading at 10x '26e EV/EBITA, which falls to 7x by '28e.

Company description

Eltel is a leading Nordic field service provider for critical power and communication networks – infranets. The company builds, maintains and upgrades these essential lifelines for national network operators and owners. For example, Eltel provides infrastructure that allows renewable energy generation, electric vehicle charging and high-capacity communication networks. Eltel has divided its business operations into two business areas: Power and Communication. Meanwhile, the company has divided its business segments into four different geographical areas: Finland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

Sustainability information

Risks

There are many competitors but few customers in Eltel's markets. Thus the company is exposed to fierce price competition and substantial customer dependency. In 2020, the two largest customers accounted for 37% of sales. If one or several customers were to reduce their investment levels, the impact on Eltel would be notable. Furthermore, the business model is highly seasonal and weather-sensitive, meaning that abnormal weather conditions may affect the company's results.

Analyst Certification

We, ABGSC Capital Goods Research and Adrian Gilani, analyst(s) with ABG Sundal Collier ASA, ABG Sundal Collier Denmark, filial af ABG Sundal Collier ASA, Norge, ABG Sundal Collier AB and/or ABG Sundal Collier Limited (hereinafter collectively referred to as "ABG Sundal Collier"), and the author(s) of this report, certify that notwithstanding the existence of any such potential conflicts of interests referred to below, the views expressed in this report accurately reflect my/our personal view about the companies and securities covered in this report. I/We further certify that I/We has/have not been, nor am/are or will be, receiving direct or indirect compensation related to the specific recommendations or views contained in this report.

This report is produced by ABG Sundal Collier, which may cover companies either in accordance with legal requirements designed to promote the independence of investment research ("independent research") or as commissioned research. Commissioned research is paid for by the subject company. As such, commissioned research is deemed to constitute an acceptable minor non-monetary benefit (i.e., not investment research) as defined in MiFID II.

Analyst valuation methods

ABG Sundal Collier analysts may publish valuation ranges for stocks covered under Company Sponsored Research. These valuation ranges rely on various valuation methods. One of the most frequently used methods is the valuation of a company by calculation of that company's discounted cash flow (DCF). Another valuation method is the analysis of a company's return on capital employed relative to its cost of capital. Finally, the analysts may analyse various valuation multiples (e.g. the P/E multiples and the EV/EBITDA multiples) relative to global industry peers. In special cases, particularly for property companies and investment companies, the ratio of price to net asset value is considered. Valuation ranges may be changed when earnings and cash flow forecasts are changed. They may also be changed when the underlying value of a company's assets changes (in the cases of investment companies, property companies or insurance companies) or when factors impacting the required rate of return change.

Expected updates

ABGSC has no fixed schedule for updating its research reports. Unless expressly stated otherwise, ABGSC expects (but does not undertake) to issue updates when considered necessary by the research department, for example following the publication of new figures or forecasts by a company or in the event of any material news on a company or its industry.
